

Community Accountability – Holding communities accountable for male violence against women

Patriarchal and colonial function	How my work stops or prevents  (level)  from playing out patriarchal and colonial functions.	Anti-patriarchal and anti-colonial function	Ways my work could/does strengthen non patriarchal non colonial functions at this  (level)  .
Control others	Individuals (men, boys, hetero folks, white folks...)	Ally with others:
Socialize rigid gender role conformity and war making	Primary Communities (peers, family, paramilitary, gangs, sports teams)	Socialize inclusive communities & for peace building
Enforce gender binary: rewarding conformity, punishing fluidity, and providing gatekeepers	Micro Communities (Schools, civic groups, faith groups, social service agencies)	Re-enforces supportive masculinities and ending male violence
Instruct on structural inequality, steer and control resources unjustly	Macro Communities (religion, media, corporations, government/supreme court)	Instruct structures to be accountable for preventing violence and sharing resources equitably
Anchor in “history” of the dominant—denying and justifying impacts of inequity.	Global Communities (Patriarchy, Colonialism)	Anchor in the wisdom of the marginalized, re-center on cooperation without domination. (aka giving up power over)

Community Accountability – Holding communities accountable for male violence against women